1. DESCRIPTION

Brevard County is located on the east coast of Florida at the approximate midpoint of the peninsula. The authorized project has been divided in two segments: North Reach and South Reach. The North Reach consists of restoration of 9.4 miles of shoreline. The north reach has been extended from the south jetty at Canaveral Harbor to the northern limit of Patrick Air Force Base (PAFB). The south reach consists of restoration of 3.4 miles of shoreline and is bounded by PAFB to the north and Spessard Holland Park to the south. This section was originally 10.5 miles long, but 7.8 miles were excluded because of near shore hard grounds. A General Reevaluation Report (GRR), which evaluated the 7.8 miles excluded from the original report, was recently completed and approved. This segment was conditionally authorized by WRDA 2000 Section 418 and WRDA 2007 Section 3045. The 4.5 miles of PAFB shoreline have been excluded from the project upon their request.
